

Are you a feminist activist or a community leader?

Do you express yourself through creative work—like art, film, photography, performance, cartoons, posters, or storytelling?

Does your work question, provoke, and challenge the state of the world, examine feminist fault lines and disagreements, and explore forms of resistance?

Have you been a part of any powerful campaigns that you'd like to bring to reconference? Does your research examine this critical moment for sexuality and gender rights?

If yes, we'd love to see your work!
